Dear PAOC Church Leader,

At General Conference, I and others presented some very audacious dreams for our PAOC family's missions endeavours and how those dreams could be supported. Our PAOC family is already doing some amazing, inspiring things across Canada and around the world. However, our leadership team has been dreaming about the overwhelming possibility of what more we could do if each member of this relationally-based mission family chose to Give Every Day.

We're dreaming of doubling missions budgets – impacting local churches, International Missions, Mission Canada and ERDO. If every single member of our PAOC family chose to give even $1 a day to missions efforts in their local church or another PAOC initiative, this dream becomes achievable.

Several churches and leaders have responded with immediate support and interest in this fresh giving ethic for our PAOC churches. At the outset, we want to clarify that Give Every Day is not just another program or project, but a new mindset for our family. We are very intentional about making sure that this is not a new fundraising campaign!

Our intention for Give Every Day reminds me of the classic "ParticipACTION" health awareness campaign. Ultimately, "ParticipACTION" identified that Canadians needed to get more physical activity, and was created to "inspire and support Canadians to move more".

We desire for Give Every Day to be a tool for the local church to inspire and support Canadians to move their core value of generosity into action, identifying opportunities for strategic stewardship, and realizing the potential that our PAOC family has as we work together.

I believe that this fresh stewardship ethic will have a profound impact on local church families. I'm dreaming of being able to release those future missionaries who are waiting for the finances to go where God has called them. I'm dreaming of doubling the missions budgets of our church families, enabling the church to have an ever increasing impact on their community. Some of our International Missions, Mission Canada and ERDO goals are outlined in the enclosed brochure (one for you, and one to give away). More copies of the brochure will be available soon!

More information will be coming your way over the next few months. We are creating resources for local churches and individuals as they choose to commit to being a Give Every Day church or a Give Every Day believer.

In the meanwhile, please start connecting with us at www.GiveEveryDay.ca (and its associated Facebook and Twitter sites).

As we are "One Church in Mission" please prayerfully consider being a Give Every Day church. We are enthusiastically looking forward to seeing some of these audacious dreams become reality as we work together.

Together in mission,

David Wells
General Superintendent
